Veterans Of E. And A. Here For Reunion

Thirteenth Annual Gathering In Session At The Castleton

PARKS PRESIDES
AS TOASTMASTER

Memorial Conducted In Tribute To 14 Deceased
Of Year

Thirteen might be a number to frighten the superstitious but when it stands for the number of veterans reunions of the E. & A. division men, it doesn't mean hoo-doo or hard luck. It means golden reminiscences, priceless minutes of reunion and the living again of the days of the link and pin.

It is the 13th today, the 13th annual reunion of the E. & A. veterans of the Pennsylvania railroad and you can't get into The Castleton unless you have a red keystone in your buttonhole. The railroaders have the hotel taken over until late this afternoon and any minute one expected to hear a hoarse whistle and a headlight come bouncing out of the elevator shaft.

One Hundred Fifty.

In all there are about 150 of the old boys here today. At noon they wrapped themselves around a turkey dinner that would have given some of the old masters of the skillet a feeling of envy. Manager Thomas Boyle might never have been a railroader but he knows what railroad-ers like to eat and the answer today was turkey, gobs of it, with everything in the way of trimmings.

L. C. Gleason, the general chairman of the day, introduced S. E.
"Lefty" Parks as master of ceremonies and the program was away on schedule. R. E. Johns led the pep singing, and the high school orchestra provided the orchestral dressing for the program. The speaker of the day was S. D. Pearson, who talked on his travels in Egypt,
with particular reference to King
Tut and his tomb.

Mr. Pearson has everything but a speaking acquaintance with King
Tut and his description of the tomb, Egyptian culture and the life of those old time dummies kept the crowd interested every minute it lasted. He interspersed some personal bits that were gems and his humorous passages were enjoyed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Double parking was at its height today in the business sections. Efforts have been made to curb parking too long in one spot, and it wouldn't be surprising were a stiff campaign to absolutely stop double parking made effective immediately.

South Mill street was a stream of steady traffic through the morning.
It carried almost as much traffic, according to an observer, as Washington street. There was an apparently endless stream of cars and trucks passing to and fro today.

Today is the kind of a day that breeds cold and the man or woman who sheds their heavy garments for spring-like clothing is flirting with pneumonia. The sun was bright but a chill was in the air.

City of New Castle keeps a guardian at Cascade Park so that none of the buildings can be damaged. The watchman also is kept there for the purpose of guarding against fire. By keeping a caretaker there insurance rates are lower, it is reported.

Castlewood Community Favors New Court House

At a community meeting held at Castleton on Friday evening, the Castlewood Community organization members voted unanimously, in favor of the erection of a new Lawrence County court house, Harry J.
Miller, secretary of the organization reports today.

The organization was in favor of the proposition of accepting the gift of approximately $210,000 in connection with the erection of the building, under the federal loan program.

It was the belief of the meeting that the program to provide approximately $490,000 for labor and materials in Lawrence County, through erection of this building was a good move.
The organization also gave approval to the NRA program.

Five Hundred Attend Supper At Y. W. Friday

CHEST BOARD SPECIAL GUESTS

Five hundred women and girls of the local Young Women's Christian Association took part last night in the second annual All-Association supper.

Present were representatives from all the clubs, classes and commit-of the board of directors, girls from the dormitories and members of the staff. Special guests of the occasion included the Community Chest

World Fellowship Week
As the event was primarily for the purpose of celebrating World Fellowship Week, a week observed in a similar manner by the Y. W.
C. A.'s of 51 different lands, the supper tables were arranged artificially to represent as many of these countries as possible.

Each club, each committee planned and decorated its own table. At 6:15 p. m. three appointed judges,
Mrs. Sara Sankey McCune, Miss
May Hoyt and Fred L. Rentz, made a trip through the Green Room, the club room and the gymnasium where the tables were set, inspecting

NEW COURT HOUSE PLAN CONSIDERED

County Commissioners Elmer Conners and F. R. Woods, have returned from Harrisburg where they were in conference with officials of the National Recovery Act regarding a loan for the erection of a new court house and the Croton Avenue viaduct.

The commissioners laid before the officials data regarding the assessed valuation and bonded indebtedness of Lawrence county, and other matters in connection with the proposed loan.

They were told that the commissioners would have the right to borrow sufficient money to erect the proposed improvements, without submitting the matter to a vote of the people, since the present bonded indebtedness does not exceed two per cent of the assessed valuation.

However the matter could be submitted to a vote of the people provided the commissioners did not submitting the matter to a vote of the people, since the present bonded indebtedness does not exceed two per cent of the assessed valuation.

From the data submitted the commissioners were told that there did not seem to be anything in the way of securing a loan, but when the money would be available is problematical. It might be ready in two months and it might not be for six months, depending on the promptness of the National Recovery board.
Under the National Recovery Act the county would be donated thirty per cent of the money and the balance would be loaned.

Court room No. 1 of the Lawrence county court house was comfortably filled Friday evening, November 24, when the Lawrence County Tax Justice league had for discussion the proposed new court house and Croton viaduct.

After a two-hour discussion of the proposals the league members pre-county commissioners to ascertain the cost of the projects, the labor that will be provided and asking them to put the matter upon the ballot in the primary next spring.

John D. Pattison, president of the league, was in charge and opened by reading house bill 35 now before the special session of the general assembly. It provides for a budget system for counties and was looked upon favorably by the league members.

Mr. Pattison then brought up the court house and viaduct and turned the meeting into a discussional forum. John E. Fee said that he could not understand why the commissioners wanted to build a bridge up the Neshannock when they patched up a 60-year-old bridge on West Washington street and placed a "bombardment" in the middle of it.

George B. Tribby, 47, 929 Warren avenue, is alive today although the car he drove at 12:50 a. m. plunged over the South Mercer street 35-foot creek wall, turned two somersaults then landed in the Neshannock creek. He was "pinned" in the seat and was extricated by policemen. He is in the Jameson Memorial hospital but is not seriously injured.

Misses Jeanette and Betty Ginsberg 1129 Moravia street, played a role in his rescue. They were walking across the South Mill street bridge and saw headlights apparently leap into the air then disappear.

They notified the police station and two policemen hurried to South Mercer street where it ends at the Neshannock creek. The officers saw the car partly submerged and waded into the stream.
Tribby was "pinned" in the driver's seat. After being extricated he was rushed to the hospital. He sustained lacerations of the head, face, wrist and body bruises.

The car was badly wrecked.
Tribby stated following the accident that he was under the impresdid not realize he was heading for

Smith And Harper Enter Congress Race

As was expected, the announcement of Friday that Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson would likely be a candidate for Congress next spring brought out a number of candidates that have been in the conjectural class. In two cases it brought a definite statement of candidacy.

The two definite statements came from Lawrence county men. C. Ed.
Smith, Jr., and E. F. G. Harper.
Mr. Smith was a candidate in the Republican primary in 1932 and made a creditable showing. There was no equivocation in his statement today. He said "I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress. My run in 1932 was such that I feel I am warranted in making another campaign."

Mr. Harper was almost, if not quite as definite as Mr. Smith. Said he "two years ago I considered run-time I feel that I am a logical candidate and my friends in the other

Son Declares Confession Of Mother False

Earle Wynkoop Charges

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—
"This confession of my mother is absolutely false."

Earle Wynkoop, son of 62-year-old Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynkoop, held for the operating table murder of Earle's wife, Rheta, made this declaration today when he awoke after several hours of sound sleep on a bench in a cell in Fillmore street police station.

"It's all a pack of lies."

And that also was Earle's answer for everything—his mother's confession, statements by police, stories of two of his girl friends that he had visited them frequently—all were lies Earle said.

Alert and keen today after his sleep, Earle said:
"My mother has been through the most terrific third-degree that police have put anyone through in many years in Chicago. That story she tells is absolutely untrue. Anyone who knows her will understand it is untrue."

The police got her to confess that by their third degree tactics.
"She did that because she thought my life and safety were in danger.

danger. They had that same story hours before she 'confessed,' while

ROOSEVELT IGNORES AL SMITH'S ATTACK

President Moves Ahead On Policy

No Change In Monetary Plans Is Made By President Or Advisors

NO COMMENT ON SMITH'S ATTITUDE

(International News Service)
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 25.—Surrounded by close advisors, President Roosevelt moved serenely ahead with his monetary policy today, ignoring a concerted attack headed by Alfred E. Smith.

Mr. Roosevelt's only reply to the 1928 Democratic standard bearer condemning the executive's money program, was to make it plainly known he had no intention of changing that policy. Smith's scolding inference that the president was fostering "baloney" dollars drew not a word of comment from Mr. Roosevelt.

The Smith letter was inevitably the subject of much conversation within "Little White House" walls today. However, acting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., who sees eye to eye with his chief on every question of policy, was there when news of the slashing attack was received.

Morgenthau joined the president in smiling silence, when questioned concerning his reaction. There appeared a slight possibility he might comment later.

MAKE PLANS FOR 300 STATE STORES FOR LIQUOR SALES

Gifford Pinchot, two proposed members of his liquor control board and cabinet members participated.

The limit of 300 stores is understood to be predicted on the number which can be set up feasibly within the short space of time before New Year's. Additional stores will be set up later if business in any location proves too great for the facilities.

Reports have been current that Philadelphia would have about 10 stores, Pittsburgh five or six, and other cities and rural communities a lesser number in proportion to population.

Three hundred stores would serve approximately 35,000 persons each on a state-wide basis.

For the most part, it is understood, the stores are to be located in lower-priced rental districts. A tentative limit of $300 monthly rent is under consideration.

two counties have urged me to run. Lawrence county has had but one congressman in forty odd years. In 1889 Thomas W. Phillips, Sr., represented this district in congress serving until 1891. Charles W. Matthews served one term in 1911 and 1912 and aside from him we have had no congressman since Mr. Phillips. I believe we have the right to the congressman this time and I expect to run."

Swick To Run
While no definite announcement has been forthcoming from Butler, it is said that Colonel Ben Williams will be a candidate. He has indicated an interest in the idea, his friend insist that he will run, but the colonel has not yet clinched it by definitely announcing.

Beaver county seems to be rather an enigma just yet. It is assumed that Congressman J. Howard Swick will be a candidate again and some months ago he stated that he expected to run. Since that time some of his friends have indicated that he might not seek re-election, but the last word from the congressman was that he would.

Other names are being bandied around in Beaver county. Some of the friends of former Assemblyman John Marshall have suggested him for the position. Since that time some of his friends have indicated that he might not seek re-election, but the last word from the congressman was that he would.

It is a long way to primary day yet, and before that it may be that the frigid blasts of a political winter may wither the candidacies of some of those now mentioned as candidates. Until then however, Lawrence county has three definitely committed candidates for Congress, Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, C. Ed. Smith, Jr., and E. F. G. Harper.

If you were not present at the Twentieth Anniversary program you missed something. It was a delight to meet the former members and their wives and we found that the Rotary Widows appreciated their invitations and some have asked that they be included in all future affairs. Monday we will have the official information on a very important work, "Lawrence County Relief Work."

Mr. Wilson Hall, head of the relief office here, will speak on this subject.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY MAY HAVE NEW SPLIT ON MONEY QUESTION

money printers, free silverites, rubber dollar manufacturers and crackpots; did not exactly constitute the language of moderation. It seemed, rather, to place the erstwhile happy warrior definitely on the reservation.

And in another somewhat ominous phrase he tended to confirm this thought.

"I am too old now to be regular just for the sake of regularity," he said.

His reference to Grover Cleveland also was noted with significance. Cleveland split the Democratic party at a time when conditions were more or less analogous to the present. And it took Woodrow Wilson's leadership, years later, to heal the breach.

Interest At High Pitch
Interest was at high pitch in the capital today as to what reply, if any, President Roosevelt will make on this, the most spectacular assault that has yet been made on any of his policies.

Mr. Roosevelt could, and did, ignore the academic criticism of Prof. O. M. W. Sprague, when he resigned as treasury financial adviser in protest against the monetary policy. But Sprague was no Al Smith, with a large personal following and a fair for popular appeal. In view of Smith's position in the party, it was held questionable in political quarters whether Mr. Roosevelt could afford to remain silent in the face of such an attack.

It was suggested in some quarters that "Al" might be grooming himself for a comeback attempt in 1936. Yet few took this seriously. In private conversations with his most intimate friends recently, Smith has declared that he never again will be a candidate for public office; that he is "through with politics" so far as his personal fortunes are concerned. The more far-sighted Democrats point out that if the Roosevelt administration is successful in rescuing the country from the depression, Mr. Roosevelt in all likelihood will succeed himself; if not, the Democratic nomination might not be worth having.

SEEK COUNTY VOTE ON PLAN TO BUILD NEW COURT HOUSE

could endorse the projects if someone could show him where it would give the working men of the county a reasonable share of the money. He argued that there were other projects that would provide much more labor than the two projects under discussion.

Arthur Reese uttered similar sentiments. E. E. Hileman spoke in defense of the viaduct, saying that if it were built it would be possible to consolidate the fire house of the city and save about one-third of the expense now paid for fighting fires. Glynn Morgan was against the projects because they did not provide any large amount of labor for the working men.

"No Studio Plan"
Attorney Orville Brown, counsel for the county controller, said both plans were the result of "no studied plan" on the part of "those now in office."

He said that the projects had been brought out because "they" had some other way to spend the money. He said that architectural fees of $7800 had already been paid out for the court house.

Attorney C. H. Akens spoke at some length upon some costs of maintenance he said would arise in a new court house. He argued that a better program of improvement at the present time would be the old belt line highway around New Castle.

the which was sponsored years ago by J. J. Dean.

James Kelso, a member of a committee that had waited upon the county commissioners, then presented a resolution which was passed, calling upon the authorities to make a survey of the projects that might be done now.

C. H. Akens presented a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment which would permit the merging of city and county governmental functions in Pennsylvania. It was passed.

The Kelso resolution which was passed follows:

Ask For Vote.
Mindful of the duty of the Tax league as a tax saving organization and prompted by the program of economy advocated by them and of the fundamental principle that all bond issues shall be self liquidating

Be it resolved: That in view of the pressure brought to bear on the county commissioners by Governor Pinchot advocating and extraordinary program on the part of the county of Lawrence, the purpose of which is to provide labor for the unemployed and to make use of funds provided by the national recovery act.

It is of the opinion of this assembly that the county commissioners should

First—Ascertain whether or not construction of the court house and Croton viaduct will provide the maximum amount of common labor for the money invested.

Second—Can a suitable site be secured and at what cost.

Third—That conservative estimate of architect and engineer be furnished, setting forth in detail:

Cost of damages
Cost of engineering
Cost of approaches
Cost of court house
Cost of sheriff's residence
Cost of jail
Cost of building site
Cost of architect's fees.
When the above data has been secured, same to be given to the public.

We are aware that the county commissioners are privileged under the law to issue bonds to finance these projects without referring them to the people, but inasmuch as it will take approximately $1,000,000 to finance the building of the court house and the viaduct, and with the fact in mind that the majority of the taxpayers are unable to pay the taxes already assessed against them, we recommend that after the publication of the above costs, the matter be referred to a vote of the people at the spring primaries for their decision.

FIRST PAY IS GIVEN MEN ON C. W. A. JOBS

have the men lay off to get their checks. Ergo the checks were taken out to Gaston Park, to the Ray street quarry and to the Croton avenue wall project.

"Real Money"
"This is the kind of a pay day that means something," said one chap as he signed the docket in receipt for his check. "This money will be back in circulation within a few hours at the grocer's and the butcher's and the clothing stores."

The same spirit was manifest by the others. The checks were on the United States treasury, which would seem to be about as good a place to draw a check as any you might imagine, and while the banks are closed this afternoon, merchants will undoubtedly cash them.

Today's pay was a small one because the fiscal week closes on Thursday. Next week will be a full one, it is anticipated, and in another week there will be hundreds of federal checks floating around New Castle, the result of work under the program of the civil works administrator.

FIVE HUNDRED ATTEND SUPPER AT Y. W. FRIDAY

awarded the first prize to the Holland table, arranged by the George Washington Girl Reserve club, and honorable mention to China and Mexico, arranged by the Mandolin club and the dormitory girls.

Mrs. Fankhauser Presides
At the close of the supper, Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, president of the board of directors, opened a short program. She extended greetings to the assemblage, and described in a few words the purpose of the meeting.

She said that the Y. W. C. A. was especially honored by the presence of Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, who has been at the head of the Community Chest in previous years and Fred L. Rentz, who headed the Community Chest this year.

Representatives of the Modern Ciderella, Good Will Graduates, Senior Girl Reserve, Blue Triangle, Square Circle, International Institute Mothers', Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve, Mandolin, Italian Mothers', George Washington Girl Reserve, Union Girl Reserve, Elm Street Girl Reserve clubs, members and education committees, short hand class and dormitory girls, were then called upon for remarks.

Speaks For Directors
Miss Mary Bigley spoke for the board of directors, saying that it was behind every girl and member of the Y. W. C. A. and that the trustees and Community Chest boards, guests of the evening, are behind the board of directors, and have given a splendid support to all its worthy movements.

A song was rendered by the Good Will Graduate club and a talk on "The Phillips Plan" was well delivered by Miss Wilkes from the Elm Street Center. These were followed by a dance by three girls from the Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve club and pep singing led by Mrs. W. J. Caldwell and Mrs. Joe Replogle.

Mr. Rentz announced the decision of the judges, saying that he was surprised at the artistry shown in the table arrangements, and that it was no easy job to select the prize winning exhibit.

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, honorary president of the local Y. W. C. A., expressed her pleasure at the splendid way the women and girls present were carrying on the work started by such a small group of hopeful workers over twenty years ago.

Mrs. S. J. Calahan, instructor of the Mandolin club was introduced, and she led her group of young musicians in playing several selections.

Mrs. Fankhauser complimented Miss Marguerite White and her staff for their aid to Mrs. Roy Long, general chairman, in preparing for the gathering. Mrs. Long was then asked to arise and was given hearty applause. "Follow the Gleam" brought the evening to an end.

IT TAKES COURAGE
It takes courage for a few of New Castle's stores to close on Saturday nights while most stores remain open.
That it is a step in the right direction is attested to by the fact that in nearly every progressive city most stores are NOT open for business Saturday night.
We will welcome the move to close on Saturday nights by other leading stores.

A MENACE TO FAMILY LIFE

THE passage of a bill through the lower house of the New Jersey legislature, forbidding the annulment of marriages where there are children, is distinctly a step in the right direction. It was prompted by a recent case peculiarly repugnant to the moral sense; but the general principle is one that needs emphasizing.

There are occasions when marriages may properly be annulled as a measure of social welfare, but they are not so frequent as to justify the practice as a whole. So far as divorce is concerned, those who regard marriage as a sacrament very properly oppose it. Even from a purely legal point of view, however, the effect upon the children, if there are any, deserves to be taken into consideration.

The man who marries and has a family gives, in the old phrase, hostages to fortune. He has made pledges which cannot be lightly disregarded. The disposition of the children, when a divorce is granted, has always been a matter of perplexity. The court sometimes awards their custody to one party, sometimes to the other; or they may be permitted to choose between father and mother. Usually the disposed parents is permitted to have access to them at reasonable times. Only where the guardianship is palpably unfit is complete severance decreed.

Generally speaking, the annulment or divorce laws take too little account of the innocent parties. It may be better for childless people who can not agree to live apart. In that event society is not so much affected. But the breaking up of the home is a serious matter. It is too often done "lightly and unadvisedly." New Jersey will set a good example to the nation if the annulment statute is amended as proposed.

COLD WEATHER BRINGS HAZARDS

When cold weather comes and forces people to spend most of their time indoors, accidents follow them right into the home. This is indicated by National Safety Council reports.

Excluding occupational injuries, persons are hurt in summer chiefly on the highways, in sports, and under other outdoor circumstances. As November draws to a close the accidents follow them indoors. The change is a natural one, depending largely on the greater number of hours which people spend in their homes as winter closes in. There are, however, many hazards peculiar to cold weather which help to send the home death toll soaring.

Chief among these is the hazard of icy steps and stairs. While this is not an indoor danger, it is classified strictly as a home hazard and accounts for large numbers of home injuries and many fatalities each year. Elderly persons are the most frequent victims and many a broken hip sustained on a slippery step results fatally.

While handrails on the front steps may have their disadvantages from an artistic standpoint, they are quite necessary for safety. Sand or ashes sprinkled on the snow and ice would prevent many falls.

Suffocation and asphyxiation increase in the winter months and it is well to remember that homes should be kept well ventilated.

Among the chief hazards of the home which exist in summer and winter alike are falls, burns, cuts and scratches, poisons and firearms.

The National Safety Council recommends a searching examination of the home for accident hazards at this time of the year. Large numbers of accidents, it is said, would be eliminated by the same kind of safety engineering now common in well managed factories.

STATUS OF FOOTBALL

Critics of modern college football picture it as an organized and commercialized spectacle. They even complain that the cheering sections are organized and lack that desired amateurish spontaneity.

Few will deny that college football today is a "big business," with some teams collecting as much as $300,000 in gate receipts in one short season and with corps of high salaried coaches and trainers and large squads of subsidized players, but after all the commercialism found in football is something different from that associated with professional baseball. It may be traditions, it may be the players and it may be a difference in those who fill the gridiron stands and those who fill the baseball bleachers, but compared with baseball the sport of football is decidedly unprofessional and uncommercialized.

The football player who excels under its present stage of development must have physical endurance and strength and mental alertness. Both are splendid qualities for the business of making a living out of sport. No better evidence that football is played to the king's taste today could be found than the fact that never was the sport as popular as now, never was it better played and never did it so strongly compete with baseball for the coveted title of the Great American Game.

JIG-SAW CRAZE RETURNING

The jig-saw puzzle craze is back again this fall and promises to be an all winter diversion once more. Seldom does a fad make such a comeback or engage the attention of so many people as persistently.

Fad experts profess they are unable to figure it out. They felt sure that the American public after taking codes apart all summer and trying to make something of them and failing to get them back together again in any kind of a picture, would have a plethora of puzzles.

On the other hand, it is reasoned that this same inability to make anything of the codes is responsible for the second growth of the jig-saw craze.

The average person likes to solve a mystery but the fun comes in knowing you have it right, that it can be completed and that there is an end to it.

All things are relative, and we can remember when young people were wicked if they held hands in the rear pews.

Judging a man's worth by his dollars is especially foolish in these times when nobody knows what a dollar's worth.

WHAT DO YOU TRADE?

In the dark heart of Africa, a priest sat in a little room and through crack in a door he watched a slave auction. He saw men and women and children being sold for gew-gaws, kegs of rum, ells of cloth—and he was sad. And he mourned over men and hated the things they did. But he was helpless, one man against many, one soul against the lost world. There was little he could do, at that moment, against the evil. But he could look and he could think, that brave, grieving, noble Brother Francois.

It's in a book that Hervey Allen has written. In his "Anthony Adverse." But what does that matter? It is not only in a book written of a time that is far behind us. It is in life, it is everywhere, in all times. And here are some paragraphs about the thoughts of Brother Francois:

"The truth was that this extraordinary man did not feel that through the crack of the door in Africa he was looking on at anything unusual. The slice of life he saw there seemed to him, although presented in primitive and uncomplicated terms, to be quite an ordinary one. It was merely another case of where sympathy between men had become inoperative because greed for the possession of things and profit at the expense of others had reduced part of the population to slavery. In a place where things were valued more than men it was inevitable, he saw, that men should be reduced to the state of being less valuable than things. In that case, what more natural than that some men, those who could not help themselves, should actually be traded for things?"

"How does this differ (he thought) from the universal commerce of the world for personal profit? Is it not all a trading of my brother for an ell of cloth or some more intoxicating substance? Did not my own father trade the bodies of his serfs for his ease, for his fine clothes and court career, his library and his chauffeur?"

"And how many merchants and bankers and statesmen were doing the same thing? Because their system was more complex was it essentially different? No. What he saw here, if it differed at all, differed in degree and not in kind, he told himself."

Look about you, look inward, men and women, and ask yourself how often, even now, you trade your brother for something you want or trade yourself for a thing that is not one-tenth as precious as your own soul.

ORIGINALITY To imitate successful persons or a particular individual is your ambition.

Perhaps you have expended many hours trying to draw a face or an animal like one by the really great artists whose work you admire.

What good did all this copying do you?

Not a bit, you were no farther along in real art, which is original.

If your only desire is to do something that your friends will immediately say looks like the work of another, go ahead.

But repeating the process will not put you ahead in art.

It is the same in writing. A certain person evolves a style that is characteristic and takes well. You immediately try to write something that will sound like his work.

Perhaps you copy the trade name as nearly as you dare and ease your conscience by writing on already used subjects from those already out under that trade name. What is the result?

It is going to cause comment and the one who used the name first will be the one who is considered original.

You perhaps think that the way to earn a living is to catch on to the tail of another's kite, but you will lose your identity eventually, so be original.

THE CYNIC AND THE DOLL

"Ah," the scoffing cynic said, "You thought your doll a lovely thing. You took it in your arms to bed And fancied it worth cherishing. But now it's broken, child, and you shed tears above it in despair. This is a foolish thing you do. There's merely wax and sawdust there."

Said one unto the weeping child Who knew the truth as well as he: "Come, little one, be reconciled! Perhaps your doll can mended be. Forget the sawdust you have seen. Forgive this grim and dreadful truth. Such tragedies as this have been An everlasting part of youth.

"So keep your love of dolls, my dear. And cherish them the while you may. You'll find with every passing year That many a joy must go away. Cling fast to beauty though it fades And press your playthings to your heart. When reason cold your mind invade, Then much that's tender must depart.

"So treasure wax and sawdust things Which warm the soul and glad the eye. Heed not the cynic's mutterings And fancy little reasons how and why. Nobel Peace Prize Omission Regarded As Quite Logical

Hopes Expressed, However, That Some Who Are Now Active Will Reap Rewards In Coming Year, Through World Action Against War

Decision by the Norwegian parliament that there will be no Nobel peace award this year produces some disappointment, but leaves a hope that by 1934 peace results will be found sufficient to reward an outstanding figure in these efforts. It is suggested that perhaps some leader who is now active will have shown results by next year, sufficient to warrant such an award.

"It would be difficult to find this year, a nickel's worth of achievement in beating swords into plowshares," avers the Toledo Blade, with the explanation that "the decision to do nothing this year indicates that a flash of wisdom may come from a legislative hall." The Blade adds that "the year has been marked by actual and potential disturbances of world peace," and mentions France's fortified frontier, new British cruisers, the American naval program, Japan's super-militarism, and Russia's boast of armed strength in Siberia.

It is believed by the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin that "if the hopes that greeted the convening of the disarmament conference had been realized in only moderate fashion, gain for the cause would have been great enough, probably, to have justified the selection of some person or persons for the award." The Evening Bulletin continues: "Arthur Henderson, president of the conference, has labored unremittingly to accomplish something for peace; unfortunately his influence on his own and other governments has not been comparable to his zeal for the cause. Two presidents of the United States have offered proposals that would have made possible substantial progress if they had been accepted. Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald has offered a plan that won approval for its general lines and at one time gave promise of being the way out. Signor Mussolini, in his Four Power Pact, made a constructive proposal that may yet prove a bulwark of continental peace."

"President Roosevelt's address to the heads of nations," thinks the Salt Lake Desert News, "was by far the most dramatic attempt, but his apparent intention of pledging American moral if not physical aid by agreeing to a consultative treaty was thwarted by two facts—the refusal of Europe to disarm, which was a condition, and the astonishing growth of nationalism here at home. At a time when observers are prophesying war and the outlook is dark, the world needs some great personality to write or act for world peace. At least the Starnith committee fails to find such a one."

"The decision is an unhappy but a true reminder," says the Charleston Evening Post, "that the world is far from being peace-minded, that all efforts to reach agreement on reduction of armaments have failed, that there is a rattling of swords and a thumping of mailed fists and a widespread feeling that war is inevitable. Yet, of this very psychology, there may come a realization suddenly that a way must be found to avoid so desperate and dreadful a calamity as would befall from a conflict in arms. There is, indeed, at this moment a revival in Europe of the hope that peace parleys might be opened which would lead to relief of the tension. The government of Great Britain will make a supreme effort to bring the Germans back into conference and in France there is seen the possibility of direct conversations between Premier Barrault and Chancellor Hitler. If out of these movements there should come a mitigation of the war fear and expectation which has almost settled into a hopelessness, there would be opportunity enough next year for an award for the peace prize."

"The action of the Nobel committee is logical," declares the Dayton Daily News, advising that "we need not be too discouraged at the implication." The Daily News makes the further comment: "We need not be too discouraged at the implication. The failure of the committee to find an outstanding promoter of peace does not mean that the peace movement is extinct. The other Nobel prizes for distinguished achievement in the fields of physics, chemistry, medicine and literature have many times been withheld because no times been claimed. It was not understood then that art and science were dead. What the peace movement now lacks in the absence of an outstanding leader it may be making up in a less concentrated but more general revulsion of public opinion against any thought of another conflict."

"It is a rebuke to the world rather than to those few sincere persons who are working for permanent world peace," contends the Hazelton (Pa.) Standard-Sentinel. "This award is made for the greatest contribution to the cause of world peace, not for good intentions. There were candidates but the world rejected their platforms. The committee has found little of concrete achievement for peace since 1931 when the last award was made, to two Americans, Jane Addams and (Continued On Page Six)

WHEREAS It is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor: and Whereas, both houses of congress have, by their joint committee, requested me "to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness;" Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 28th day of November, next, to be devoted by the people of these states to the service of our God and glory in His being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness; and, in general, for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us. And also that we may then unite in most humbly offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and ruler of nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions; to enable us all, whether in public or private station, to perform our several and relative duties properly and punctually; to render our national government a blessing to all the people by constantly being a government of wise, just and constitutional laws, discreetly and faithfully executed and obeyed; to protect and guide all sovereigns and nations (especially such as have shown kindness to us), and to bless them with good government, peace and concord; to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion, and virtue, and the increase of science among them and us; and, generally, to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows to be best.

Given under my hand, at the city of New York, the third day of October, A. D. 1789.

1500 Lose Jobs At Big Distillery

KITTANNING, Pa., Nov. 25.—Passage of Governor Pinchot's liquor bill putting a $2 tax on stored liquor has closed the Shenley distillery here. All but 150 of the 1500 employees have already been discharged.

Supt. L. P. Weiner says: "We regret that we had to close the distillery. The action of the legislature put us in a position where we cannot meet competition of distilleries in other states. Right now we are stopped hopelessly, for we cannot make a move, but are waiting for instruction on how to proceed. We hope that the shutdown is not permanent. If we decide to open, the workers will be notified."

Takes 43,000 Feet Of Plank On Bridge

Heavy Trucks Are Knocking Bridges Of The County To Pieces Says Elder

County commissioners are completing replanking of the Cherry street bridge in the seventh ward. This bridge is 480 feet long. It required about 43,000 feet of three-inch oak plank to cover it. The plank, all sawed in Lawrence county, cost around $35 per thousand feet. In addition to the planking some other work is being done.

County Commissioner P. O. Elder said this morning that considerable repair work will be necessary on bridges during the coming year. "The big ten-ton trucks are knocking them to pieces," he said. "Most of the bridges were built before the big trucks were allowed on the road, and it was never contemplated that they should bear such enormous loads as are now passing over them."

on for a half hour program of plain and fancy dancing and the young corymbes gave the boys some idea of what Albertina Rasch means when she talks of ballet dancing. It was good, mighty good and the half hour seemed to be a short one.

Memorial Service
The usual memorial service was held in memory of the 14 veterans who got their final clearance during the past 12 months. This service is always impressive for it brings back to the moment some wonderful men who helped to make the Pennsylvania railroad the splendid organization it is.

It was a great day for the veterans. Great in a number of ways. The weather was perfect, the food was good, the entertainment was just what the doctor ordered, but best of all, there was the reunion feature of it. Men from the lake district sat down and fanned with fellows from Youngstown, from Niles, from Sharon and from New Castle. It was the one day in the year when they could get together and reminisce, and they did.

A number of special guests were present. W. Miller Wardrop, a former E. & A. man, now assistant to the general manager, was present, and nobody enjoyed the day more than he. J. M. Amisen of Cleveland, general superintendent of the M. A. Hanna Company, was a guest, and with him was W. O. Ralmine of Ashtabula, assistant general superintendent of the same company.

Division officials occupied a place of honor at the banquet table, but the one place of honor that stood out above the rest was the place for the roll of honor men, 33 veterans who have long since passed their active railroad days, but who are still part of the great army that makes up the Pennsylvania railroad.

The committees in charge of today's reunion follow:
Officers: J. R. McGuire, president; C. M. Frost first vice president; R. E. O'Donnell, second vice president; J. C. McMichael, third vice president; W. A. Glasser, fourth vice president; C. P. Sipe, fifth vice president; C. J. Callahan, treasurer; A. E. Stahl, secretary.

Committee on arrangements: L. C. Gleason chairman; J. R. McGuire, C. M. Frost, R. E. O'Donnell, W. A. Glasser, C. J. Callahan, J. C. McMichael, W. T. Wescher, C. P. Sipe, A. E. Stahl.

Reception committee: C. M. Frost chairman, B. J. Martin, W. W. Wald, T. L. Hofmeister, B. H. Hill, C. J. Sheehan, L. M. Campbell, R. J. McCarty, E. S. Sylling, C. J. Callahan, T. W. Thomas, W. J. Swartz, I. W. Tate, R. B. Lally, T. C. Limber, V. C. Smith, Angelo Russo.

STATE INCOME TAX LOOMING

House committee would give Pennsylvania its first income tax and require payments on 1933 incomes before next April 15.

For Graduated Tax
The bill provides for a graduated tax ranging from one per cent on incomes up to $10,000, two per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $50,000, and three per cent on sums in excess of that amount.

It is frankly admitted in administration circles the proposed legislation is experimental. Neither is there any denial that the bill passed, would be subjected to constitutionality tests. Previous attempts to levy an income tax by the constitutional amendment procedure have failed in Pennsylvania.

The governor proposes that revenue from the tax be used for educational purposes to alleviate the burden on local real estate owners. Anticipating court battles that would delay collection of the tax, he has recommended $50,000 from the floor tax on liquor manufactured in the commonwealth before repeal be allocated to financially embarrassed school districts.

Estimate Huge Revenue

Although there is no definite estimate of the amount of revenue the tax would return, it is believed it would yield the excess of the $26,500,000 the state is spending for educational institutions this year.

The bill is drafted along the lines of the federal law, specifying numerous deductible items. Its provisions apply to all residents of the Keystone state except single persons with gross incomes of less than $1,000 annually, married persons earning less than $2,500 and federal employees. State workers, exempt under the federal law, would be forced to file state returns.

The tax also would apply to all estates and trusts, to partnerships and to residents of other states earning salaries from within Pennsylvania. Profit-sharing trusts are exempted but the dividends derived would be classified as income.

Question Constitutionality
Although the constitution specifies "all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax," some constitutional authorities are confident the bill, if passed, would stand a court test. The basic underlying principle of the tax, they explain, is predicated upon the argument that earning capacity can be classified with each classification subject to a different tax rate.

Among opponents of the measure is the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce which claims Pennsylvania "has long enjoyed material advantages as an industrial state because it had no income tax."

Maxim Litvinov Sails For Home

Soviet Commissar Obviously Happy As He Boards

TENDERED DINNER IN NEW YORK CITY

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Smiling and obviously happy at resumption of official relations between the United States and Soviet Russia, and expressing "great satisfaction" with the results of his visit to this country, Maxim Litvinov, Soviet Foreign Commissar, prepared to sail for home today following a banquet tendered in his honor by the American-Russian chamber of commerce and the American-Russian institute.

Will Sail Today
Litvinov planned to sail today either on the Ile De France or the Conte Di Savoia, but declined to reveal his exact plans.

Addressing 1600 persons at the banquet, Litvinov solemnly expressed belief that the "combined voices of the two giants, America and Russia, will weigh the scales in favor of peace."

Litvinov assailed the growth of militarism and without specifically naming any nation but obviously alluding to Germany, said:

"A characteristic of such militaristic training is the advancement of medieval pseudo-scientific theories regarding to supremacy of some peoples over others, and the right of some peoples arising therefrom to dominate others or even exterminate them."

With such ideas, he asserted, neither Russia nor the United States have any sympathy.

The Soviet Foreign Commissar stressed the industrial and commercial benefits bound to accrue to both nations through resumption of diplomatic relations.

ORDER 33 C. C. C. YOUTHS TO BUTLER

New Group, Already Chosen,
To Undergo Exam—Trip
Long Delayed

Lawrence county today was ordered to send 33 additional youths to Butler on Friday, December 1 for their preliminary medical examination for service in the Civilian Conservation Corps, the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board announced. The 33, it was added, have already been selected.

Announcement of the call for the 33 was made several weeks ago, but word of their medical examination was delayed.

According to the plans of the county board, Dr. G. S. Bennett, relief board head, will speak to the boys sometime previous to their departure for Butler next week. R. L. Meermans, superintendent of the Federal-State Employment office, has asked the public to donate six cars for the Butler trip.

It is probable that the Lawrence boys will board a train for a government conditioning camp in Butler next Friday evening.

"Boys of the county should not rush for placements," Mr. Meermans emphatically reminded, "because it's of no use. The 33 are being notified of the examination by mail."

Truck Tears Out Braces On Bridge

County commissioners were notified this morning that a big truck, passing through the Edenburg covered bridge, had done considerable damage. Ten of the overhead cross-pieces, or braces, were torn off by the top of the truck. The truck, which bore an Ohio license, was traced to the Ohio state line, but the driver escaped.

As the bridge is a part of route 17, and under the jurisdiction of the state highway department, that department was notified. Repairs are being made to the bridge today.

Several days ago the county commissioners called attention to the fact that more than a half dozen bridges in the county will have to undergo extensive repairs as a result of truck traffic. Taxpayers will be called upon to foot the bill.

Over 41,000 Men Get Pay In State For C. W. A. Work

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 25.—The total payroll for the Pennsylvania civil works administration for the first week of its existence was estimated today at more than $1,000,000 for approximately 41,000 men.

Work is underway in every county on an educational and a highway project. Thirty-two counties have started work relief projects and 22 individual projects have been given the approval of Eric H. Biddle, state administrator.

Largest of the individual jobs approved calls for construction of a dike at the Fritz Island Disposal Plant at Reading. Four hundred men will start work immediately on this project which is to cost $80,000.

Five other approved jobs are sewer construction work in Lower Marion Township, Montgomery County. A total of 371 will be employed in this work. Eight of the projects are state jobs, employing a total of 107 men.

"The only thing that is true in Rheta used to go down stairs frequently, disrobe and weigh herself. The rest is a pack of lies, told by my mother to save me because she thought I was in danger."

Earle then refused to have his picture taken behind the cell bars. He began to prepare for appearance shortly at the state's attorney's office, for further questioning as authorities sought what they termed the "real lowdown" in the mysterious killing of pretty Rheta.

Shown Her How To Use Gun
CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Earl W. Wynekoop showed his mother, Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop, charged with the murder of Earle's wife, how to use the revolver with which the girl was shot, police declared Earle confessed to them today.

The new statement by Earle, came after Dr. Wynekoop had been remanded to the county jail on the coroner's verdict holding her for murder.

Police Captain Thomas Duffy declared he obtained the statement from Earle after the courts had ruled that Earle could be held by police until Monday for further questioning.

Duffy said Earle told him that he not only showed his mother how to use the revolver but that he had purchased a new box of cartridges for the gun, which he gave to his mother on Nov. 11, the day before he first started for Kansas City.

He told police, Duffy said, that he had taken his mother to the garage in the rear of the old 16 room mansion of mystery.

In the face of Dr. Wynekoop's startling confession, now regarded as a defense more than an admission, authorities announced their determination to elicit from the woman physician the "true motive" for Rheta's "treasoning" death on an operating table in Dr. Wynekoop's 16 room mansion of mystery.

Police squads went to the Wynekoop home at an early hour today and took into custody again Miss Enid Hennessy high school teacher who was a member of the strange household and is considered an important witness in the case. She had been released last night, but was hurried away for further questioning.

Miss Hennessy was in the Wynekoop home on the night Rheta's body was discovered on the operating table.

Dr. Wynekoop, who explained his extra-marital affairs with the statement that his girl wife was his "mental inferior" were locked up at Fillmore street police station at midnight, the questioning to be resumed after they had a few hours rest.

Composed and answering questions with cool precision, Dr. Wynekoop maintained her story that the auburn-haired wife of her son had died from the accidental administration of an overdose of anesthetic while she was examining the girl. She insisted that she had then fired a bullet into the prostrate girl's back to make it appear as though Rheta had been killed during a robbery that the prominent woman physician's professional reputation might in no manner be clouded.

Autoist Breaks
Fire Hydrant

Peter Mancuso, Jr., 30 South Beaver street, is held on a charge of suspicion in the city police station following the destruction of a fire hydrant by an auto at Greenwood avenue and West North street last night. After being arrested he told an unusual story to the police, according to the report.

Police received a report that a car, Pa. 7712, going east on West North street, failed to navigate the turn at Greenwood avenue and smashed the fire hydrant.

The police visited the Mancuso home, found the doors locked but could see a young man with a handkerchief tied about his mouth and his hands tied.

Police made an entry, untied the young man, then he said several young men came to the house, stuck a revolver against him, gagged and bound him and took his auto.

He said they left by the rear door. Police said the rear door was locked from the inside.

Chosen to serve were W. M. R. Fox, Frank Chapin, Frank Forbes and Joseph Burton, agriculturists, and Charles E. McGrath and Harry E. Goll, city representatives.

For the past three years R. R. George has headed the association as president, and for six years preceding that gave service as a director, but he refused a directorship post again last night because of the pressure of personal business.

New officers of the association will be named by the new directors at their first meeting in the office of Secretary A. C. Shoaff, Room 407, Lawrence Savings & Trust company, on Friday, December 1 at 2 p. m.

Vecchiane is one of the men apprehended by police on the morning of November 25 while enroute from Youngstown to this city with a load of liquor. He has waived a hearing on the liquor charge. The man who was with him has been discharged as it was found that he was a passenger and had nothing to do with the liquor.

Scouts Recognized At Court Of Honor

North District's Tribunal Makes Public Awards At Church
Ceremony

The November court of honor session at the First Christian church last night was another big session and showed that many troops have done some good work since the last court. Probably New Wilmington V-1 sprung the surprise, because although West Pittsburg 1 virtually clinched their title, the college town boys came in with a fine assortment of advancements. Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman, presided, with Ralph Davis, Mike Fisher, Dr. R. C. Lutz, A. S. Hainsworth and J. A. Turek assisting.

Advancements were as follows: New Wilmington V-1, Robert Calhoun, Bob Johns, James Neale, B. Kerr, V-18, to second class; Joe Francis and Richard Patton to first class; Richard Jones and William Atkinson of V-13 to first class, with Charles Kelly of 55 and Nick Santangelo of West Pittsburg 1.

Two West Pittsburg Scouts, Wilfred Aloe and Robert Snodgrass, were advanced to life rank. Willis Roney and Reed Shiner of New Castle 12 were advanced to star rank; also Sidney Verrier of New Wilmington V-1.

James Gravenstretter of New Castle V-37, was formally awarded the Silver Eagle rank; he having been approved by the national court of honor. With the audience standing, Dr. Bennett passed the award on to Mr. and Mrs. Gravenstretter, the boy's parents. Troup V-37 expects another Eagle next month.

The list of merit badges awarded is rather detailed for publication, but names of scouts receiving are given herewith:

West Pittsburg 1: scoutmaster Jack Hainsworth; troop committee—man B. Voland and scouts Wilfred Aloe, Harry Voland, (asm), assistants Herman Neumeyer, Francis Bannon, scouts A. Tusaie, N. Santangelo, L. Santangelo, J. Rice, M. Pavlovich, M. Marantini, S. Kos, K. Freed, B. Snodgrass, H. Fischer, L. Dunning, H. Chambers, O. Buchanan, A. Beres, J. and F. Benn.

New Wilmington V-1: S. Verrier, K. and R. Patton, P. Means, R. McCaslin, G. Getty, J. Galbreath, E. Freeman, J. Francis, J. Ferris, J. Davis, and F. Whitman and W. Verrier.

New Castle 12: F. Robinson, B. Zahneiser, E. McKee, J. Phares, W. Roney, R. Shiner, R. Zahneiser and G. Book. New Castle 55, C. Kelly.

A vote was taken of the troop leaders present, and Dr. Bennett was asked to set the December court of honor date for Friday evening, December 29.

Company K, Sons of Veterans, will meet on Monday evening, November 27, at 7:30 o'clock for drill. The commander would like to see all members assembled at this time. Place, Sons of Veterans hall, city building.

Union High School football team ended its 1933 grid season Friday afternoon at Sandy Lake. High by taking a 19 to 0 victory on a field that was a sea of mud. Coach Dave Boyd's Union machine rode to three touchdowns with Captain Wayne White, Don Monico and Ed Thompson carrying the ball over the Sandy Lake goal line. It was a great day for Union and a fitting finale to a fairly successful season. Nine of the Union team played their final scholastic game for Union High on the football field.

Sandy Lake never threatened the Unionites to any great extent. Sandy Lake won the toss and elected to receive. The Sandy Lake backs Timney and Smith drove down the field for several long gains, but Union's front line in Union territory, and Union took the ball on downs. Union soon lost the ball on downs and Sandy Lake tried it again, but the field was too muddy for spectacular playing. The first period ended in a scoreless tie.

In the second period a fumble by a Sandy Lake ball carrier on his 25-yard line was recovered by Captain White of Union. On the first play Paul Morrison the speed merchant of the Union team ran the right side of the Sandy Lake line and was downed on the one-yard line. After three tries at center Monico finally dove over the goal line for the first touchdown. On a fake dropkick Monico made the extra-point good by a plunge.

Sandy Lake again elected to receive, but failed to gain and had to punt to Union. Union had the ball in Sandy Lake territory when the first half ended. Union 7, Sandy Lake 0.

White Scores
Union received the kickoff for the third period and started a march down the field with Wallace, Morrison and Monico doing the brunt of the ball totting. Union finally worked the ball to the Sandy Lake 50-yard line. At this point Don Monico uncorked a beautiful pass to Captain White and he sidestepped the Sandy Lake safety men and raced 40 yards for the second Union touchdown. A fine play and well executed. Union 13, Sandy Lake 0. The try for extra-point failed for Union.

Sandy Lake became desperate for a score and tried several passes after getting the ball on the kickoff. The Sandy Lake team was halted on the 10-yard line after Timney, Smith and Down had carried the ball down the field with rapidity. Thompson broke up a Sandy Lake forward pass that was ticketed for a touchdown, and Union took the ball on the 10-yard line and "downs." The Sandy Lake threat was over.

Thompson Runs 85 Yards
Several subs drifted in for both teams. Union started an offensive attack from their own 10-yard line. Annerella carried the ball to the 15-yard line on a fine play. Ed Thompson, pulled the most sensational play of the year for Union on the next signal when he took the

Featherweight Champion For First Time In Brilliant Career Gets Kayoed

CANZONERI DOES NOT WIN TITLE

By HYPE IGEOE
International News Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Kid Chocolate punched his way through 210 amateur and professional fights, over a stretch of ten years, without experiencing the dreaded "knockout."

Tony Canzoneri branded the "Glistening Kid" with the hateful K. O. in 2:30 of the second round of a ten-round bout in Madison Square Garden last night.

It was a pitched face down-ward to the canvas, a crushing right hander to the chin stretching him out stiff.

He lay there, his face buried in the padding. Finally at "go" he started up, his toes working on the end of him, his hands on the other.

He got into a crouching pose resembling a pole vaulter just landing this time. The end of the Patent Leather Kick.

He cried bitterly when he got to his feet, long after the first "ten" chant in his long, brilliant career.

Standing, he seemed utterly beside himself with grief.

There was a huge swelling at the side of the Kid's right eye.

Blood trickled down his face where the flesh had been torn.

The Kid didn't lose his featherweight title last night. It was a catch weight affair. Tony weighing 133, the Kid 130.

The knockout the terror of every fighting boy's heart, had settled upon this splendid mite of a man, and I doubt even today's wildest rooters were glad. I'm afraid the tragedy which came into the Kid's life overshadowed Canzoneri's triumph. It shouldn't. It was a glorious achievement.

He fought magnificently in stalking the Kid to his first knockout. There was nothing fluky about the punch that stood Chocolate on his head. The Kid led the opening.

Canzoneri saw the "button" and a rifleman on a range drilled it and center. It was all over.

Church League Starts Tuesday

Seven Teams Compose A Loop, Six In B Division

LOTS OF INTEREST IN COMING GAMES

Church Basketball league play will get under way at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night when three games will be played. Two B and one A loop tilts will occur. There are seven teams in the A division and six in the B division. Wesley M. E. captured the league title last season.

The teams in the league follows: A division: Wesley M. E., Epworth, St. Michaels; B division: Greek Orthodox, First Christian, St. Johns Lutheran, First Baptist, Mahoning Presbyterian and Highland U. P.

Each division will play four rounds. The champions of the respective divisions will meet in a play-off for the championship of the league at the season's finale. One hundred and fifty four players have been signed by the teams. The players are in physical condition owing to practice sessions recently.

New Faces On Teams
Considerable interest is being displayed in the race to start Tuesday. Wesley M. E. will have few new faces. They will be new faces, however, in the lineups of Sacred Hearts and St. Michaels. Epworth M. E. it is said has a strong outfit to wage floor warfare in the A loop.

Last season First M. E. was in the B loop. The team will be in the A loop this season. They took the B loop title in 1932-33 and expect to cut a merry pace against their new opponents. Temple Israel has been graced with young but strong material and Finnish Lutherans expect to unfurl a few surprises.

They will depend mainly upon Hukuna, Walino, Mackey, Laurel, Rohonen and while they have not said so they expect to be at the top of the standing or close up when the loop race is over which will be several months distant.

Predict Tight Race
The B division race should be tightly contested throughout as all the teams are evenly matched. The Mahoning Presbyterians will have strength if their practice sessions mean anything and First Christians will present such players as the Lannigan boys, Latimer, Patton and Speed, who hail from Princeton High.

D. Baptiste is handling the coaching and is the First Baptist. Their team has added strength in E. Whitman and Harry Sanders of last season's A Baptist outfit. The Greek Orthodox hope to mould together a good outfit with a couple of ex-high players as a nucleus. St. John's Lutherans will have a team composed of young but fast floor artists.

Three Games Tuesday
Highland U. P. expects much better results this season as the A and B outfits have been combined. George Winters will play on the Highland team, according to Henry MacNicholas, director of athletics at the Y and a prime mover in the church floor circuit.

The teams will play Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday on some weeks and on other games will be sandwiched in on Wednesday. The first weeks schedule: Tuesday, November 28—Greek Orthodox vs. First Baptist (B); Epworth vs. First M. E. (A); St. Johns vs. Highland U. P. (B); Saturday, December 2—First Christian vs. M. Mahoning (B); St. Michaels vs. Finnish Lutherans (A); and Epworth M. E. vs. Sacred Hearts (A).

Enroll Industry In Safety Test

Awards Will Be Given Industries Of State Who Have Best Records

TO HAVE CONTEST IN PENNSYLVANIA

Announcement was made here today by A. E. Irons, factory and building inspector for Mercer and Lawrence counties, of a state-wide contest to prevent industrial accidents, beginning January 1, 1934, which will be sponsored by the Department of Labor and Industry of Pennsylvania.

All Bureau of Inspection factory inspectors are now engaged in the enrollment of plants throughout the state.

This contest will embrace all establishments having the following exposure hours:

Industrial plants employing an average of 10 or more persons for a total of 20,000 or more man-hours exposure per year.

Stores having 50 or more employees with 100,000 or more man-hours exposure per year.

Hotels and restaurants with 50 or more employees with 100,000 or more man-hours exposure per year.

Industry will be classified into various groups according to type of manufacture and exposure hazards.

Awards will be made at the end of 1934 on the basis of accident frequency rate in each respective group.

Two types of awards will be given. Honor Certificates to all establishments making a perfect record, and Merit Certificates to all those having a better record than the average throughout the state for each respective group.

As a fair basis for comparison, all accidents will be counted as lost time accidents when an employee is injured to the extent that he or she is unable to return to his or her next shift of work.

All Butchering

Hogs Must Pay

Processing Tax

(Special To The News) NEW CASTLE, Pa., Nov. 25.—Those Lawrence county farmers who make it a practice to butcher hogs and sell the products to their butcher and egg customers must pay the federal hog processing tax or make themselves liable to "heavy penalties."

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Helvering reports that farmers have been preparing hogs for market and selling them without making returns and paying the processing tax. He declares this is a violation of the agricultural adjustment act and warns that "heavy penalties are provided for violation of the law or evasion of the tax."

The ruling of Commissioner Helvering means that the small farmer who has been slaughtering a hog or two and selling the products to his town customers can no longer do so without paying the federal processing tax. This despite the fact that the agricultural adjustment act was passed and the processing tax imposed to aid the farmer.

Waitresses May

Be Out Of Jobs

Passage Of Liquor Bill As It Now Stands Would Cause 150,000 To Lose Jobs

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 25.—Passage of the liquor control bill as it now stands would throw about 150,000 waitresses out of work, officers of the Pennsylvania State Hotel Association and the Western Pennsylvania Restaurant Association today declared.

It was understood Senator William D. Mansfield, Allegheny, will seek to amend the bill to avert such a development.

Ross L. Gammon, president of the restaurant association, said this particular clause in the bill would cause the importation of 100,000 waitresses because of the lack of trained male restaurant help in the state. Gammon and his associates will appear at a senate hearing on the bill Monday in Harrisburg.

Minstrel Show

Scores Success

B. V. M. Sodality Of St. Vitus Church Presents Program Friday Night

LARGE AUDIENCE

HEARS PERFORMERS

Another local theatrical presentation which scored a decisive hit, was the minstrel show staged by the B. V. M. Sodality of the St. Vitus church on Friday night in the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school.

From start to finish the 1,500 or more persons enjoyed the first ladies minstrel attempted in New Castle.

The cast composed mostly of South Side young ladies, demonstrated they have much ability. The singing as well as the acting was enjoyed immensely by the large gathering. Genevieve Thomas who sang "Nobody's Sweetheart Now," scored with this number. "Rita Granata's vocal number 'Aintcha'" thrilled the large crowd. As for the singing end of the show, the young girls showed they have much talent along this line.
